Crayon`d Task

How to setup and test this appilcation

What I have done ?

I have created a way where users can post images or post just text, much like a social platform. The functionalities that the user can do are.

- Register for an account
- Create a Post ( with or without image )
- Like a post
- View his own post
- Search for posts

Tech Stack

Front End

- HTML
- CSS
- EJS Templating Engine
- JQuery
- Some pretty Images from Unsplash. :-)
- Bootstrap Library 3.3.7

Back End ( The Important Stuff )

- Node Js
- Mongo DB

Node Modules I've Used

- Passport Js - For Authentication
- mongoose
- Express Js
- passport-local
- multer

What you need to run this application

Since this is a Node application, make sure that you have Node Js installed on your system.

You should also be having mongoDB installed and active in your system, make sure that mongoDB is running on the default MongoDB port ( 27017 ).

Running this application

I have included a compressed file. Extract the compressed file and change directory into the extracted folder.

Just to be sure run this command, so that we dont miss out any module files.

npm install

After starting up mongod service, run this application by typing in the command.

node app

This application will run locally on port 1234, go to this URL to access the application.

http://localhost:1234/

How this application works ?.

To create or view a post you must have an account. So when you are running this application for the first time do create an account.

I've set certain constraints where you can only access certain API only if you have logged in. The login session is stored on the client side as a hash and the other hash for the session is maintained at the server side along with a key, both are compared to authenticate the user.

To manage authentication I've used Passport Js.( Just trying not to reinvent the wheel )

DB Schema

Implementation Details

You need to have an account to post as well as like post.

I have included a middleware to check if the user is authenticated to access a particular API.
